

Hoof Beats Remember!

*The end was near, we felt cold and lonely
We were left to ourselves cramped on top of one-another*

*Our hearts beat faster & faster
We were unwanted, rejected & sent to Hell*

Oh, but you were not there, you could not see For our silent calls were never to be

Something was coming, we finally saw some light, A light we thought was shinny & bright

*The doors opened with loud shouting voices
We stood shaking & wondered in fright*

What was all the rush, what was all the fight?

Suddenly one by one, we were forced through a cold door to a tunnel of hell

Now, standing on a cold slippery floor and no directions to turn, I knew it was over,

My time has come, there was no return

*I knew it was over, I'll never see that light again
For you were not there, you could not see*

*They looked me in the eyes and suddenly,
"I was hit, hit with tremendous pain, I just wanted out"
And never to return again*

The hoof beats will remember, we'll be coming back, don't you worry

They chose hate over love, as I can see But we will rain down on them, those who looked us in the eye, without a tear

Oh, You could not see, you were not there Although the hoof beats will remember

For those who left us cry in silence, we'll be returning in hoof beats their way

There's no more light, there's no more us

The hoof beats remember and will be back,

"In silence it will be!"
